Champion Bumped on the Cheek and Dempsey's Eye Is Badly Cut

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 9.—Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey to-night are nursing bruised heads as a result of spirited workouts to-day in preparation for their heavyweight championship contest here July 4.

While boxing with the Jamaica Kid, a sprightly 180-pound negro, an old wound over Dempsey's left eye was opened when the challenger's sparring partner landed a grazing left hook. The blood streamed from the wound, and for fear of further damage Manager Jack Kearns called a halt on the glove work for the afternoon. The cut may prevent Dempsey from boxing for several days, as it is feared the wound may keep opening up.

Willard received a bump as big as a doorknob on the left cheekbone as a result of a right-hand upper landed on Jack Hempel in the first round. The champion increased his boxing to eight rounds after doing five miles of road work in the morning.

He went three each with Hempel and Walter Monahan, and two with Soldier Stanton, who was all but knocked out yesterday. The champion was apparently afraid to hit Stanton. Willard imitated the style of Dempsey while following Stanton around the ring, much to the amusement of a big crowd. "Big Jess" crouched over Dempsey does, and shifted and shifted and feinted his way into close quarters.

Dempsey opened his workout facing Jack Ross, a 200-pound youth from Winnipeg, who claims the heavyweight championship of Canada. Within thirty seconds Ross was on the canvass, completely knocked out. Dempsey felled him after ten seconds of boxing with a short right hand punch to the chin. After Ross staggered to his feet the challenger whipped over a left hook, which finished him.

The challenger then stepped two furious rounds with Sergeant Bill Tate and was in the middle of his first round with the Jamaica Kid when the wound was opened. Dempsey pleaded to be allowed to continue, but was overruled. He left the ring in humiliation, saying to the crowd in a boyish way: "Accidents will happen, you know."
